Please complete the form below, making sure that your abstract speaks to the congress theme “Transdisciplinarity and Transformation for the Future of Small-Scale Fisheries”. Abstract submission is open until February 15, 2018. If you have any questions, please email us at 3wsfcongress@gmail.com.

Your abstract will be peer-reviewed by the congress committee and you will be notified whether it is accepted for presentation at the congress by April 15, 2018. Note that we are expecting a high volume of submission and thus we may not be able to honour your preferred type of presentation, if your abstract is accepted.

Individual papers are for anyone interested in presenting work done in small-scale fisheries related to science, communities and/or policy. Be specific about the transdisciplinary aspect of your work and how it contributes to transformation and the future of small-scale fisheries. Papers can be presented in regular concurrent sessions (10-12 min per paper), as speed presentation (5 min per paper), e-poster presentation* or in a special ‘pesca-kucha’^ session.

*E-poster sessions will be organized to enable presentation of papers in a poster format, but without having to print the poster. E-posters will be displayed on designated screens, with specific viewing time and presenters will be invited to give a brief presentation (2-3 min) about their posters, if they wish.

^Pesca-kucha presentation follows the format of the original PechaKucha, which means each presenter will prepare 20 slides to show for 20 seconds each (a total of 6 minutes and 40 seconds for each talk). The format encourages presenters to showcase their work through images and storytelling, while putting less emphasis on text and graphics.
